Think You're too Small for a Data Center?

Colocation by the "U" is the Answer!

- RACK59's 1U to 4U solution can provide SMB business owners the same peace of mind enjoyed by our larger enterprise customers
- Data center redundancy, safety, performance and reliability at a price that is affordable and scalable for SMB businesses

So...what is a "U"?

A "U" is 1.75 inches of vertical cabinet space within a 42U cabinet. No need to purchase a 1/2 or full rack when your need requires only 1 or 2 units in a rack. If you're worried about paying for more than you need, our shared colocation solution offers the reliability and redundancies of a data center while only billing for the space, power and connectivity your business requires. Included with this, you'll have the option to ship us your own equipment and we will rack and stack it for you. RACK59's Colo by the "U" is a scalable solution for your growing business.
